English Literary Circle, Manipur (ELCM)

The English Literary Circle, Manipur (ELCM) is a registered body formed in 2014 by the teachers of the Department of English, Manipur University along with persons who are interested in the studies. The association is not restricted to the field of English Literature alone, but it was formed with the objective to promote academic interests in the field of Humanities and Social Sciences. The ELCM regularly organises study circles, workshops, seminars, symposiums and conferences related to literature, language and culture to expand knowledge and ideas.

About the Conference

In an era of hyper-connectivity and rapid globalization, the borders that once defined language, literature, culture, and tradition are being redrawn, contested, and reimagined. This conference invites scholars, academics, and students from diverse disciplines to examine how narratives travel, transform, and resist across geographic, linguistic, digital, and ideological boundaries. By foregrounding interdisciplinary dialogue, it is crucial to map the convergences and tensions that shape contemporary identities, power structures, and creative expressions. The conference seeks to create a collaborative space where diverse voices engage in critical conversation, fostering new theoretical frameworks and actionable insights that transcend traditional academic silos. The Department of English, Dhanamanjuri University, along with English Literary Circle, Manipur, based on this foundational idea of the interplay of literature, language, culture, and tradition, through this academic venture seeks to address and challenge static views on culture and identity and treat them as something fluid, subjected to external pressures and constant negotiations.
